Do Something.

The Kentuckian is not in favor of a bond issue of $100,000 being voted upon at this time. The time until the election is too short for a proper consideration of a matter of this importance. The only pressing demand for funds comes from the colored schools and this can be and should be met without a bond issue. The need for more room for the colored children is urgent and must be given immediate consideration. The Council should make appropriations from the license fund, as has been done from time to time heretofore. If $15,000 is needed, three annual appropriations of $5,000 would meet the requirements. The first payment will be immediately available after November 1st and the rest could be borrowed. It is believed that there is a chance to secure a building already constructed by lease or purchase, that could be re-modeled at small expense and made available at once, at an expense of much less than $15,000. It is said that there are more than 1,000 colored children in 15 school rooms of the ordinary size. In some of them there are 100 children occupying seats intended for 60. Whether all of these children are entitled to the privileges of the schools is another question, but the fact that stands out boldly is that something should be done to provide accommodations for those entitled to the privileges of the schools. The colored people are not making any unreasonable demands, and while the great movement against illiteracy is sweeping over Kentucky, Hopkinsville should at least look after its own children, white and black. The School Board stands ready to carry out any plans outlined by the Council to relieve a situation that can no longer be ignored. Do something and do it now.

Between The Censors And The Liars Very Little of The Real Situation Is Allowed To Get Through.

REPORTS NOTHING BUT CONFLICTING CLAIMS ON ALL SIDES.

London, Oct. 14.—It is officially announced at Petrograd that the siege of Przemyśl is progressing, according to a Reuter dispatch from the Russian capital. The Russian artillery is rapidly destroying the forts, which, however, continue an energetic resistance.

The Przemyśl garrison, it is further announced, does not exceed 30,000 men.

Montenegrin troops under General Rukovitch have defeated 16,000 Austrians, supported by six batteries of artillery, at a point northeast of Sarajevo.

Berlin, Oct. 14.—Heavy fighting continues in the Argonne, two chains of hills in northeastern France, according to an official statement received here today from the German general headquarters under date of October 13. Violent attacks by the enemy east of Soissons have been repulsed, it is said. The big German siege guns used to reduce the Antwerp forts already have been moved.

It is reported they are to be taken to the Vosges to reduce Belfort.

Vienna, Oct. 14.—An official announcement issued by the French war department tonight says:

"Our offensive has reached the San river after numerous fights, most of which resulted victoriously for our troops."

"The relief of the stronghold of Przemyśl has been completed. To the north and to the south of this fortress what remains of the hostile army has been attacked."

Paris, Oct. 14.—The official communication issued by the French war department tonight says:

"With the exception of an advance of some importance in the vicinity of Berry-Au-Bac (on the center) there is nothing to report." Around Apremont and St. Mihiel, the Germans have been making determined efforts to maintain their positions on the Meuse.

MR. BRYAN IN KENTUCKY.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN, FROM HIS LATEST PHOTOGRAPH.

Hon. W. J. Bryan, Secretary of State, will make a speech at Lexington this afternoon and another at Louisville to-night. He will be accompanied by Governor Beekham and Congressman Cantrill, and Congressman Sherley will also appear in short addresses. Mr. Bryan comes to Kentucky after a conference with President Wilson in which the National situation was thoroughly discussed. It is important that Kentucky should have two Democrats in the Senate to uphold the policies of the administration, and it is the desire of the President and Mr. Bryan that every Democrat in the State should vote the straight ticket this Fall. Mr. Bryan's popularity in Kentucky is wide-spread; no other Democrat has so large a following. There are demands for his presence from all quarters of the State, and Chairman Rhea of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, regrets that Mr. Bryan, by reason of engagements in other States, cannot devote more time to Kentucky.

SALVATION ARMY

Will Open Mission When Expense Fund Is Raised.

E. voy B. Vallier, of the Salvation Army, is soliciting contributions to secure a fund sufficient to rent a mission hall and a residence for himself. When sufficient funds are provided for these fixed expenses, the mission will be opened and it is expected that the incidental expenses will be met by the street service collections. This is the usual plan followed in other cities where the Salvation Army work is done. It is expected to receive the support and encouragement of the church people, as its field is in reaching the un-churched and fallen, and it works in harmony with the other religious bodies.

GOT OFF LIGHT

John Brasher's Fight With Lawrence Tanner Settled.

Col. John Brasher, of Madisonville, was tried before Esq. Hite, Monday, on charges of flourishing a pistol and breach of the peace and was fined $50 and cost on the former case and $5 and costs on the latter offense.

Brasher was arrested by Officer Lyon about ten days ago following a difficulty he had with Lawrence P. Tanner when the former drew his pistol but was prevented from using it, by Detective Tom Ellis and Elliot Mason, who happened to be standing near. The charge of carrying concealed weapons was reduced to flourishing a pistol. Mr. Tanner did not appear in court against Brasher and he went into a trial without an attorney. Brasher gave a replevin bond for both fines and costs with B. T. Todd as surety, a well-known farmer of Hopkins county.—Owensboro Inquirer.

W. T. TANDY LOSES CASE

Court of Appeals Affirms The Lower Court In The Matter.

ECHO OF 1907 RIOT SETTLED.

A Similar Case of W. T. Cooper Against City Still Untried.

A dispatch from Frankfort Tuesday said:

"W. T. Tandy, who sued the city of Hopkinsville for failure to protect his tobacco warehouses from night riders in 1907, lost on his appeal from the Christian Circuit Court, when the jury found for the city. The Court of Appeals said he failed to prove that the city authorities had failed to do their duty of protecting his property."

Mr. Tandy was the owner of the Tandy & Fairleigh "Regie" warehouse, on the corner of Campbell and Fourteenth streets, one of the warehouses burned in the riot of December 7, 1907.

He brought suit for the value of his property destroyed, but made out a weak case, not being able to show that the authorities had any knowledge before hand of the raid, the law requiring the owner to notify the authorities of impending destruction and demand and not receive protection before the city can be made liable.

The expected has happened in the affirmation of the case which is the end of litigation in the matter. The decision carries with it the similar suit of W. T. Cooper & Co., against the city, a companion suit. Mr. Cooper was the owner of the warehouse on the corner of Ninth and Railroad streets, a part of the present site of Peace Park, which burned from its proximity to the Latham warehouse destroyed by the incendiaries. The threatened litigation against the city by Mrs. Latham was dismissed in the compromise of the park bequests two years ago. Her suit against individuals supposed to have incited the riot is still pending in the Federal Court at Owensboro.

Merritt on Trial.

Geo. H. Merritt, Jr., was arraigned in Circuit court yesterday on information and put on trial for assaulting John C. Duffy, an attorney against him in the case of B. P. Cravens last week, in which Merritt was the defendant. Merritt took exceptions to language used in Mr. Duffy's argument and struck him in the face. A special venire was drawn from the jury wheel and the jury was not completed until late in the afternoon session of court.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

An official statement issued at Petrograd announces that on October 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada was torpedoed in the Baltic Sea by a German submarine and sank with her crew of 568 men. The cruiser opened heavy fire, but the submarine succeeded in landing torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion occurred the vessel going down.

A dispatch from Vienna states that the Russians in Galicia and north of the Vistula are pursued by Austro-German troops. Many towns which a few days ago were in the hands of the Russians are now again under Austrian administration, it is stated. A message from Petrograd says that the Russians have abandoned the siege of Przemyśl in Austrian Galicia in order to put themselves in a strategic position to meet the Austro-German army.

A wireless official statement from Berlin states that enormous provisions of all kinds were captured in Antwerp. The English blew up ten Antwerp forts themselves and the Belgians estimate that they lost 20,000 men in prisoners, according to German statement. The interrupted artillery engagement in the Woevre region, the report continues, has been resumed and the bombardment of Rheims has been resumed. A Russian fleet of eight large vessels was sighted in the Black Sea. It is claimed that the situation is favorable for Germany everywhere.

The French war office says that violent attacks have occurred along the front in Northern France, and that the Allies have gained ground at some points and have not lost at any place. On the left wing engagements continue. Between Arras and the Oise the Germans failed in repeated attacks, notably between Lassigny and Roye, it is claimed. Progress is claimed on the center of the line. It is claimed the Germans occupy only the suburbs of Antwerp, although the Germans say they are in complete possession.

England's need of more fighting men was emphasized by the announcement that the infantry standard has again been lowered, and an appeal made for recruits. Earl Curzon, former Viceroy of India, in a speech at a war meeting, said the taking of Antwerp was a deliberate part of the German plan; that Germany would make of it a great naval port with which to menace England, hold a grip on all Belgium and make Holland do its bidding. He predicted a long war.

Germans have taken possession of the Belgian town of Ghent. The King and Queen of Belgium are supposed to be in Ostend, though their whereabouts are unknown.

ROOT INJURIES TO PLANT

Many Crops Are Affected by Parasitic Diseases—Eradicate by Keeping the Land Bare.

(By N. FULTON.)

Root knot trouble occurs in sandy types of soil in some sections of the United States. Many crops are affected, including alfalfa, vetch, clovers, tobacco, potato, sweet potato, watermelon, cucumber, cantaloupe and tomato. Many other crop plants are affected as well. A few of the common weeds, such as pigweed, wild carrot, purslane and morning glory are also subject to root knot troubles.
Enlargements of irregular shape and size may appear anywhere on the root system. Affected plants are stunted in growth and their foliage is a lighter shade of green than normal.
This, however, may be hard to detect when a large area is uniformly infected.

The trouble is caused by a very small worm belonging to the group of Nematodes. The worm may live in the soil for months, but quickly die

An Affected Plant.

in the galls after the death of the plant. A generation, from egg to egg, is about a month, and one female usually lays several hundred eggs.
The worm lives over winter in protected parts of the soil, or in the galls on perennial plants. They are readily transported to distant places on ng, peach, or mulberry trees, or in Irish seed potatoes.

Areas can be most quickly cleared of the infestation by keeping the land absolutely bare for two years. The next most effective plan is to plant for two years in resistant crops, as winter rye or oats followed by iron cowpeas or peanuts and repeat the second year. Susceptible weeds must not be allowed to grow. Some reduction can be accomplished by breaking the land deep in dry weather and allowing it to dry out as much as possible.

Where Women Rule.

In certain parts of Tibet, South America, and elsewhere, the women are supreme in the management of things. They are probably the survivals of the time when women universally "bossed" the men. Such was the general condition away back in the early tribal times of which history gives us but a scanty account. The fact is beyond question, however, that woman was "boss" a long, long time before she became the "weaker vessel" and took to playing "second fide-

Contentment and Health.

After all, the question of livable-ness in any environment is, as a rule, one of the temperament and adaptability of the individual. This is the opinion of the Journal of the American Medical association. Americans have braved the dreaded tropics with comparative comfort and remained in perfect health. Manila and Panama have lost the terrors of climate, while the far North has become the field of pleasure seekers. The healthfulness of an environment, urban or suburban, inland or coastwise, has become almost entirely a question of personal hygiene and mental satisfaction coupled with the indispensable accompaniments of public sanitation.

SKIM MILK VALUABLE DRINK

Repeated Tests Demonstrate Pullets Lay More Eggs in Winter When Fed on This Diet.

To test the value of skim milk for laying hens, 60 pullets were put in two pens, equally divided, of one variety and all as near of an age as possible. They were fed exactly alike, keeping strict account of their feed,
but given different drinks. One pen had sweet skim milk, while the other had only plenty of fresh water.

This test was begun on November 1 and accounts were balanced with both pens on May 1 following. The hens that drank the water had but a little over half as much credit for eggs laid, while their feed had cost nearly a third more than the pen which were fed skim milk. Some days in the very coldest weather the milk-fed pen of 30 pullets laid 28 eggs, and their average for January was 24 eggs daily.
The skim milk-fed pen not only produced many more eggs, but they did not consume as much food as the other pen.

Since then these tests have been repeatedly tried with different breeds and with the same results.

CORN VALUABLE FOR POULTRY

Not Much Danger of Becoming Over-fat, if Compelled to Exercise for Their Grain.

Corn is a valuable poultry food,
and it is in its abuse and not its use that it is to be condemned. Some fowls become fat on almost any kind of food, while others will not fatten even on corn. There seems to be a good bit of human nature about the makeup of the hen. If hens are made to exercise for their grain, and are in a good laying condition, there is not much danger of their becoming over-fat. In fact it is rather a difficult matter to overfatten laying hens. It is when they are slack in laying and become lazy that the fat seems to start to grow. When hens become too fat they should be placed in a separate yard where there is no male bird, as the attention of a male to an overfat hen is apt to hasten death. If such hens are given only an evening feed of wheat and nothing during the day except green food and water they will soon lose considerable of their surplus fat.

Motorcycle as Chaff Cutter.

A farmer at Bantnall, Salop, England, has fixed his motorcycle on a stand against the wall of the farm buildings, and it drives a chaff-cutter and turnip cutter at the same time.
It does not cost much to work it. The turnip cutter is on the same level as the cycle, and is connected by a kind of bicycle chain. The chaff-cutter is placed above the turnip-cutter on another floor and connected by two-inch belting. After it has been on some little time the engine gets hot, so a fan is made to revolve by the side to keep it cool. It is also used for churning milk. This saves a great deal of time for the workman because it can do the two jobs at once.

NEGRO POPULATION GROWS

9,827,763 in 1910 Compared With 8,833,994 in 1900.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The number of negroes in the United States proper in 1910 was 9,827,763, compared with 8,833,994 in 1900, or an increase of 993,769, a preliminary report of the census bureau announced yesterday.

In 1910 negroes formed 10.7 per cent of the total population, against 11.6 per cent in 1900. The increase for the decade was 11.2 compared with 20.8 per cent among the native whites and 30.7 per cent among the foreign-born whites.

Of a total of 2,953 counties in the United States there were 110 in which there were no negroes and there were 53 counties in 1910 against 55 counties in 1900 in which 75 per cent of the population was negro.

VICTORY OF BEAN EATERS

Most Remarkable Record In The History of Baseball.

Boston, Oct. 14.—The Boston National league club Tuesday completed the most sensational record in modern professional baseball history by defeating the Philadelphia Americans in the fourth and final game of the world's series at Fenway park, 3 to 1.

Beginning with their rush from last place in the senior league in the middle of July, the Braves have broken traditions and records in the national sport with speed and abandon during the last three months. They emerged champions of the world, leaving a trail of startling surprises and upsets in their wake which it will be hard to duplicate.

Last, and far from the least, of their accomplishments was the overthrow of four consecutive games of the world's famous baseball machine of Connie Mack, with its hundred-thousand-dollar infield, home-run heroes and corps of skillfully blended veterans and youthful pitching stars. Tonight the new champions gathered under the management of George Stallings, are celebrating their ascent to the champion ship.

INTER-LEAGUE HONORS EVEN.

The world's series of 1914 was the tenth between the pennant winners and the two major leagues since the National commission, the highest court of the baseball, took charge of the annual autumn championship battle in 1905. To-day's victory of the Braves brings about a tie for inter-league honors, since American league and National league clubs each have won five championship pennants. The American league victories and the clubs that won them follow:

1906, Chicago
1910, Philadelphia.
1911, Philadelphia.
1912, Boston.
1913, Philadelphia.
The National league triumphs are:
1905, New York.
1907, Chicago.
1909, Chicago.
1909, Pittsburgh.
1914, Boston.

Total attendance for the series was 111,000, receipts $226,739; players' share $121,800.94, each club's share $40,632.58, and the National commission's proportion $22,673. As winners the Boston players receive 60 per cent of $121,900.94, or $73,140.56, while the Athletics, as losers, get $48,760.38.

Of the Boston club twenty-six players are eligible to share in the prize money, giving each man $2,813.10, should the money be divided equally. Of the Athletics twenty-four players are entitled to divide the losers' end, which would give each Mackman $2,031.68 on a share and a share alike basis.

HERE IS A STUDY IN CIRCUS CONTRASTS

The "Long and the Short" of Ringling Bros. Circus Family.

Here is a picture of the biggest and littlest members of Ringling Brothers' circus. Baldy is famous as the largest elephant in captivity. Princess Tiny is known as the human doll. Baldy weighs eight tons, drinks 80 gallons of water a day and consumes a bale of hay as a breakfast cereal every morning. The "Princess" weighs 15 pounds, drinks two cups of milk and nibbles at a lady-finger. She is 21 inches high, while Baldy grazes the top of the car in which he travels.

Only the giant giraffes, "Long Tom" and his mate, "Molly," can look down upon this giant pachyderm. He and Princess Tiny are the "long and the short" of a moving municipality of 1,370 men, women and children, 41 elephants, 735 horses and enough wild animals to start some latter-day Noah in the flood and ark business. All are coming here Wednesday Oct. 21, on the five red and yellow trains that carry the wonders of Ringling Brothers' circus from place to place. While the Princess is a bit exclusive, you will have several opportunities to see Baldy. He will appear in the street parade, await your pleasure and peanuts in the menagerie and, covered with burnished trappings take part in the newly added 1,250-character spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, the gigantic production which opens the circus program.—Advertisement.

SLIGHT HOPE FELT FOR MAN LOST IN MOUNTAINS.

MUCH UNCLAIMED BAGGAGE PILED UP IN NEW YORK

Property of Refugees Who Fled War Zone of Europe, Leaving It Uncared For.

New York, Oct. 14.—Many pieces of baggage, left behind in Europe by Americans who fled homeward after the outbreak of the war, are lying unclaimed in the appraiser's store of the New York Customhouse. A large number of these articles, it is thought, belonging to tourists who were marooned and compelled to sail on steamers other than those on which they had engaged passage, while their baggage was brought over by the vessels they had intended to take. Trunks and bags abandoned at European railway stations also may be in New York.

By keeping in close touch with the steamship companies and giving full description of the missing property, it is pointed out by the customs authorities, refugees may regain much baggage which they had considered lost.

TUBERCULOSIS DAY NOV. 29TH

Churches, Schools and Lodges Will Observe It All Over The Country.

By sermons, lectures, motion pictures, exhibits, and many other methods, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will enlist thousands of churches, schools and lodges of the country in a simultaneous educational movement against tuberculosis during the week of November 29th. The campaign is to be known as the Fifth Annual Tuberculosis Day Movement.

A special circular entitled "What is Tuberculosis Day" has been prepared and is being widely distributed. The plan of Tuberculosis Day, as explained in the circular, does not necessarily comprehend a special sermon on tuberculosis on November 29th. If a church, school, or lodge gives the subject attention in any way during that week, this will help in the national educational movement.

Outlines for lectures or sermons on tuberculosis and "stock" talks on this subject will be furnished free to ministers and others who can use them. Literature for distribution in the churches, schools, lodges, and elsewhere will also be given away in large quantities. Persons wishing such literature, either for the preparation of sermons or talks on tuberculosis, or for distribution in public meetings on Tuberculosis Day, should get in touch with their local anti-tuberculosis society, or if that is not possible, with The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East 22d Street, New York City.

Latest Peace Move.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Secretary Bryan cable today to the belligerent nations of Europe a peace resolution adopted last week by the governing board of the Pan-American union, which comprises the United States and the other twenty American republics. The resolution, presented by the Chilean minister on instructions from his government, follows: "In view of the awful strife now devastating continental Europe and arousing universal sympathy, while profoundly disturbing the industrial and commercial interests of the world, the governing board of the Pan-American union hereby resolves to convey the governments of the belligerent countries an earnest expression of its hope for peace, as a tribute to the sentiments of fraternity which have inspired the meeting of the Pan-American conferences."

ANOTHER TRIUMPH

High School Again Defeats A Heavy Team By Big Score.

The local High School team again triumphed over a heavier team on last Monday when they overthrew Montgomery-Bell Academy of Nashville, Tenn. The game was one-sided. Montgomery-Bell at no time being dangerous to Orange and Black goal. Despite the five touchdowns handicap, the interest never abated, and frequent flashes of brilliancy by the contestants held the interest of the spectators.

H. H. S., immediately after the kick off, carried the ball around to the one yard line. Here they were held for downs, M. B. A. receiving and punting, Breathitt received and carried the ball to the twenty-yard line. On the next play, Breathitt carried the ball around end for the first score. At the beginning of the second quarter, Breathitt scored again on a short line buck, raising the total to 12 to 0. Higgins in the second half plunged around on a short tackle buck for the third tally. At the end of this quarter, Breathitt chalked up his third score for the Orange and Black, when he ran through the whole M. B. A. team forty yards for a touchdown. He was thrown very hard as he crossed the line, and was replaced by Roberts, Moss kicked goal. The last score was made by Manning Brown on a line buck, raising the tally to 31 to 0.

The whole team deserves credit for the good game it played. Weeks and Radford at ends played consistently and hard. Moss and Lander showed up well in the line, and Higgins and Lackey in the backfield. Breathitt, who was substitute in quarter for Roberts, ran the team with the skill of a master, and was, if anyone, the individual star of the game. The game was clean throughout, but one penalty being imposed. The next game is with Princeton High School.

Why Sugar Is Up.

Facts About Sugar says: "The war map of Europe today is the sugar map of yesterday. Comparing the territory devoted to sugar growing with the area of war operations, it appears at once that the two are nearly identical. Such a comparison in itself is sufficient explanation of the world wide disturbance that has taken place in the ordinary adjustment of sugar supply to sugar demand.

The normal sugar crop of Europe is a little over 8,000,000 long tons. In the past year the number of tons produced in the countries now engaged in war was as follows:

Germany.....	2,738,000
Russia.....	1,750,000
Austria-Hungary.....	1,710,000
France.....	800,000
Belgium.....	230,000
Servia.....	6,000
Total.....	7,234,000

As will be seen from the above nearly 90 per cent of Europe's sugar usually is grown by the nations that have abandoned implements for weapons. The entire sugar crop of the globe last year was 18,500,000 tons. Six of the European countries now at war normally produce 40 per cent of all the sugar grown in the world.

O'Rear's Attitude.

If what Judge E. C. O'Rear, formerly of the Court of Appeals, and Republican nominee for Governor against Governor McCreary, has to say about Gus Willson could be printed, it would make very lively reading. He has neither confidence nor respect for the Ex-Governor and is only awaiting an opportunity to expose him. The basis for his dislike is said to be the disloyalty of Willson during the last Campaign, when he never turned a hand to help the party nominee. Vigorous efforts have been made to get Judge O'Rear to take the stump for Willson, but if he does make any speeches they will not be in favor of the cleaginous and uncertain Gus, whose unpopularity with the Republican leaders is giving his party as much as forty per cent in the registered vote. The truth is that the Republicans and Progressives have been shot all to pieces in Kentucky and the bitterness between them is as great as it was in the last Presidential Campaign.

BERLIN FEELS CONFIDENT

People Prefer to Believe That Germany Will Win.

An Associated Press report from Berlin says:

Some of Berlin's night amusement places are closed, so many young men are not on the streets as usual, and in the poorer sections of the city a few of the smaller shops are closed. A few other things betray to one who knows his Berlin that a great war is in progress, but it is doubtful whether any one who knows the city less well would notice that the Berlin of today is not the Berlin of July. Friederichstrasse and Unter den Linden are filled nightly with the same amusement-seeking throng. Many theatres again present their usual offerings and concert halls are crowded.

Another indication of the return of comparatively normal conditions is the fact that people are beginning to talk and think of other things besides war and in a measure to resume their ordinary routine of life.

Prices of foodstuffs are little higher than under normal conditions. Flour has gone up markedly, but the agrarians declare this largely due to postponement of autumn threshing. Conditions on the whole are improving. In some lines business is plainly becoming better. The street car, omnibus, train and underground railway service has been greatly improved and many lines are running early on peace time schedules. The street cleaning service has not been affected.

The people of the city are supremely confident of the victory of the German arms. Most of them expect the war will soon be over, but, nevertheless, are prepared for a long conflict, while not expecting it. The same scenes of enthusiasm that marked the initial departure of the troops are repeated each time a troop train leaves.

Trainloads of prisoners, chiefly French, have proved as great a magnet in the last few days. There are no expressions of animosity. These are reserved for the British.

A considerable number of the permanent American colony have thus far elected to remain here. Those who remain believe Berlin is the safest place on the continent.

GERMANS CAN EAT THEIR FILL NOW

London, Oct. 14.—The following official statement has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company:

"Enormous quantities of provisions of all kinds were captured at Antwerp. The garrison of the northern forts and 13,000 English fled to Holland, where they were disarmed. The English themselves are said to have blown up ten of the Antwerp forts. The Belgians estimate that they lost 20,000 men as prisoners. When the fall of Antwerp was made known to the allies, the French cavalry was withdrawn in the direction of Arras.

97 Wounds and Livés.

La Liberté, of Paris, printed a story of an army surgeon, Dr. Dumont, who is lying in the Val de Grace Hospital with 97 wounds in his body. A shell burst over his head in the battle near Soissons, killing his horse, and the surgeon lost his right ear, his back was horribly mutilated and his left arm was gone, while both legs were bored like a cylinder. His kidneys were badly raked by the shell fragments, but he will recover, according to the attending surgeons.

The old fashioned man who thought that his house was his castle now has a son who thinks that his flat is his carabaret.

Champion Liar Among War
Correspondents Heard
From.

London.—Telegraphing from Paris the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says:

"That the fumes of the famous French three-inch shells have a most deadly effect in an inclosed space is shown by a scene that met the eyes of the French penetrating a chateau occupied by the Germans and which they had just bombarded. Entering the drawing room they found a company of Wurtembergians petrified in action. Some were at the windows taking aim, with their fingers still pressing the trigger, while others were at the tables, where they had been playing games, with cards in their hands, while still others had cigarettes in their lips. An officer stood with his mouth open as if in the act of dictating an order, and all the corpses looked absolutely life-like."

DRESSED AS BOY

Went From Vincennes, Ind., to Madisonville With a Male
"Hobo" Friend.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 14.—Masquerading as a boy, Miss Jerrold Wilson, 16 years old, who says her home is at Vincennes, Ind., traveled from that city to this place in true "hobo" style. Her disguise was penetrated, and, along with a man giving his name as Hugh Simmons, 25, Alexandria, Ind., she was arrested. Both are in jail pending an examining trial.

Miss Wilson, who is a pretty brunette, said she left home, intending to earn her own living. Her efforts to secure work, she said, were unavailing, and she decided that disguised as a boy she would have more opportunities to secure employment.

Simmons declared he never saw the girl until yesterday, when he met her at Howell, Ind., and that they had traveled as fellow "hoboes." Simmons said he believed the girl to be a boy. He said they left a freight train at Atkinson Junction, near here, last night and spent the night in the woods.

"I was dumbfounded," he said at the jail last night, "when they told me my companion was a woman."

Out of Danger.

The peace treaties this country has entered into bind 980,000,000 people to peace, so far as the United States is concerned. This number includes most of the world's civilized population. So that, should a dispute arise between this nation and any other, the matter will be referred to the tribunal made up of delegates from other nations, and that tribunal shall have a year in which to examine and report. During that year the excitement is expected to cool and a solution be reached. As a general thing arguments do not decide an issue. This is attended to by events, and during a year many of these happen that reflect upon the issue. It is hoped that the rest of those 980,000,000 people will go into agreements of this kind. It will establish the world's peace.

In the present European tumult the treaty, so far as this country is concerned, will act like a charm. Should a question arise, we would wait a year before the slaughter began. In that time we could get cool, and become impressed by the horrors of war. So we can go on with our business and other earthly affairs feeling sure that no bloody war will intervene to obstruct or disperse our purposes.

England's need of more fighting men was emphasized by the announcement that the infantry standard, which had been raised to check the great rush of recruits at the outbreak of the war, has again been lowered. The minimum height for recruits, which formerly was 5 feet 6 inches, has been reduced to 5 feet 4 inches, and chest measurement from 35½ inches to 34½ inches. An appeal has been issued in Glasgow for 2,000 recruits to replace the naval men interned in Holland.

Rough on Glasgow.

The Glasgow Times reports the following deplorable condition of affairs in the town:

The thugs, the ruffians, the bootleggers and the illegal whiskey-sellers of all sorts, the murderers and the criminals of high and low degree, are well aware that Policeman Thurman is sleeping his last sleep in a country burying-ground on Willis creek, in Clinton county, with a bullet hole through his heart.

A drunken ruffian insulted a Glasgow lady on the streets since Thurman died by the assassin's hand.

Another Glasgow lady was roundly cursed in a Glasgow restaurant by a drunken scoundrel she had requested to cease using oaths in her presence last Friday. There were several men present who heard the ruffian curse the lady, and did not open their mouths. The unprotected woman was forced to go out on the street and hunt for an officer—whom she did not find. This is the most disgraceful episode ever occurring in Glasgow.

During the fair, two drunken men drove through a residence part of Glasgow, yelling at the ladies sitting on the porches.

A man was knocked on the head, beaten to a pulp, robbed and left lying in the fair grounds from Saturday night until Sunday evening.

As for drunkenness during the fair—but why repeat an oft-told story of shame and disgrace?

Oh, yes! The thugs, the ruffians, the bootleggers and the illegal whiskey sellers, the murderers and the criminals of high and low degree, all know that Policeman Thurman has gone forever, and that an assassin's hand sent him to his long home.

But what is the peaceable, law-abiding citizenship of Glasgow going to do about it? Shall it be run out of its own home? Or must a vigilance committee, or a mob, protect those who will not protect themselves?

Where the Fabians First Met. Clifford's Inn, by Temple Bar, which was recently sold at auction in London, has already undergone a good deal of reconstruction, though this has not so far materially damaged the last of the cloistered retreats behind the frontage of Fleet street. When the old buildings disappear, as seems inevitable, there will go a good many sets of chambers associated with famous men—among them the rooms occupied for many years, while his books were slowly making way among the discerning, by that pure eccentric Samuel Butler of "Crewdon." It was, by the way, in the little old hall of Clifford's Inn that the weekly meetings of the Fabian society were held for at least a decade and a half. It was there, indeed, that the old gang—Sidney Webb, Bernard Shaw, Hubert Bland, Graham Wallis, Sydney Olivier and the rest—finished and practised the debating game which in the nineties made them so powerful a band of controversialists.—Manchester Guardian.

DR. ELIOT SEES WAY TO STOP FUTURE WARS

In a letter to the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, calls attention to two passages in his report on observations made in China and Japan during his visit to the far East in 1912, which, in his opinion, suggest the means by which the nations of the civilized world might prevent the recurrence of wars of the kind just broken out and which are devastating Europe. The two passages referred to are entitled, "The Fear of Invasion" and "The Exemption of Private Property From Capture at Sea," and read in part as follows:

"Although the causes of war tend to become commercial and industrial, two other world-wide causes of war remain which are liable to take effect at any time in both the East and the West. The first is the fear of sudden invasion by an overwhelming force. This fear is as keenly felt in China as Japan.

"The neutralization of territory which protects some of the small European nations, like Switzerland and Belgium, rests rather upon the mutual jealousy of the greater powers than on any established practice among the European peoples, or any trustworthy sense of expediency and justice.

"The only hope in the East, as in the West, for relief from this terrible apprehension of invasion lies in the progress of international law and in the spreading opinion among publicists that there are better ways than war to settle international questions about territory, commercial intercourse, and sovereignty. This is a region in which all three divisions of the activities of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace are nearly concerned—intercourse and education, economics and international law.

"The other apprehension which may at any time become the cause of war is the fear lest the supplies of food and raw material which come to a country over seas should be cut off. Such insular countries as Great Britain and Japan are peculiarly subject to this apprehension; for either of them would be seriously distressed by even a short interruption of its supplies of food and raw material. Both these nations are therefore obliged to maintain navies more powerful than any likely to be brought against them. Hence the immense burdens of competitive naval armaments.

"A remedy for this apprehension is, however, in sight. The doctrine that private property should be exempt from seizure without compensation on land, will, when adopted by a few nations which maintain strong navies, relieve the nations adopting it from the dread lest their food supplies and the supply of raw materials for their manufacturing industries should be cut off, and the export of their manufactured goods be made impossible or unsafe. To secure relief from this recurrent apprehension which prompts such exorbitant expenditure on navies, it would not be necessary that all the nations of the world should adopt the doctrine of the exemption of private property at sea from capture."

GERMAN CROWN PRINCESS IS A DIPLOMAT

Many people are wondering what the crown princess of Germany is doing while her husband is away fighting.

After six years of housekeeping in the German manner—to which she took well, be it stated to her credit—the crown princess grew tired.

She loved all outdoor sports, and the constant confinement of keeping up a large establishment, together with the superintendence of the education of her children, began to tell on her. The princess confided to her husband her new plan for living.

"I want," said she eagerly, "to give up the palace and live in a hotel. People are beginning to do it so largely now, and the princess of Pless says there is no end to the economy it means, both of time and of money."

"Let us try it," said the crown princess, "that is," he added as an afterthought, "if the emperor approves."

"Of course he'll approve," said the crown princess.

But she was wrong. The kaiser disapproved. It upset all his traditions. He liked to think of a woman as bound to her church, her children and her kitchen. The kaiser put down his foot. Very resolutely at the same time the small foot of the crown princess went down, too.

For a while she lived in a hotel.

But only for a while. The crown princess overstepped the bounds of what his honorable father thought he should have done and he was ordered to rejoin his regiment at Danzig.

"I shall not go," decided the crown princess. "You will soon be back in Berlin, and what are we to do with the children in Danzig?"

"No, you had better stay here," said the crown princess thoughtfully.

But the kaiser thought differently. Without saying a word to the princess he made her a colonel of a regiment, and by mail she received the order to join it immediately at Danzig. There was no redress; the apartment in the hotel had to be given up, the princess went with her husband and the kaiser won. With a laugh the princess acknowledged his cleverness. There was no malice on either side. Both father and daughter-in-law are diplomats.

"If I had been allowed to choose my own father-in-law, I should have chosen you," said the crown princess once to Kaiser William.

"And I should have chosen you for a second daughter," he said affectionately.

Quick as a flash the answer came back:

"But you did not!"

"I choose you now, then, for ever and ever," said the German emperor, "you and your children."

MAKING MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, YET BROKE

Joseph E. Ralph, director of the bureau of engraving and printing, Washington, tells an amusing story on himself. The bureau has been running day and night since the congress authorized a practically unlimited issue of emergency currency, turning out paper money at the rate of $12,000,000 a day. Ralph has spent an average of 20 hours a day at the big plant. The other morning, when he went home for breakfast and a brief rest, Mrs. Ralph said: "Joe, there are two or three fine bargains advertised in the papers this morning, and I would like to go down town shopping. I wish you would give me a little money."

The sum Mrs. Ralph asked for was small, but as he searched through his pockets all that Ralph could find was $1.75.

"Well, if that isn't the irony of fate," he exclaimed in disgust. "Here I can dig up only $1.75 and I have made a million dollars in the last two hours."

The hundreds of employees, many of whom are girls and women, have a co-operative restaurant, with a purchasing committee to provide the supplies. Somehow, in the face of the continually rising prices of foodstuffs, they manage to have pretty good meals at an almost incredibly low price. For instance, one day for dinner they had a soup, boiled leg of lamb, string beans, potatoes and a dessert, with coffee and tea. All for 15 cents.

rest, Mrs. Ralph said: "Joe, there are two or three fine bar-

SENATOR GEORGE C. PERKINS TO RETIRE

Maine's representation in the senate promises to be but two native sons after March 4 next, which will be the lowest numerically for many years. The last son of Maine to represent some other state in the senate is George C. Perkins of California. Senator Perkins is rounding out the longest service of any man from California in the senate, but is retiring voluntarily at the close of his present term. He was the son of a farmer at Kennebunkport, Me., and is now seventy-five years old. His health has been frail for a number of years, but he sticks to his duties at the capitol with a fortitude rarely witnessed there. He has been in his seat daily all during the hot summer, ready to help make a quorum. This is all the more striking, as he belongs to the minority party, whose responsibility for keeping a working quota of senators on hand is secondary.

The time was when four or five Maine men served in every senate. New Hampshire and Vermont likewise had native sons there from other states, chiefly from the West. Nearly all the western states have had senators from northern New England at some period.

All the countries of the world steadily draw closer together, and the telegraph wires bring the happenings of every one. No other newspaper has a service equal to that of The World and it relates everything fully and promptly.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and any body can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that it to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

On Tuning a Piano.

Many people think it is an easy matter to tune a piano, but this is not the case. As celebrated a musician as Hans von Bulow got into trouble in New York owing to this fallacious idea. He would not permit the instrument to be tuned in the wareroom, one of his whims being that even a short removal of a piano knocks it out of tune. There is, of course, a modicum of truth in the theory. So it was tuned upon the platform where he was to perform. He stood over the tuner all the time, at intervals emitting groans and strong German language. When the task was almost completed he gave a shout and, seizing the wrench, began doing it all over again. In three minutes he had the piano so hopelessly out of gear that it took three hours to get it right again. Herr von Bulow had to pay dearly for this exhibition of ignorance.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

Nutmeg Poison.

A German medical journal, the Munich Medizinische Wochenschrift, gives a curious story of two cases of poisoning from nutmeg, an article in daily use in food and drink. Two servant girls partook of a mixture made up of two ground nutmegs, a small quantity of powdered cinnamon and half a liter, about one pint, of hot wine. One girl drank the greater part, the other but a small portion. Both were taken to the hospital unconscious. The one who drank the greater part remained in a stupor for three days and it was not until the fifth day that she recovered her senses. The other, who like the first developed failure of memory, vertigo and somnolence, was not so long in recovery. Nutmeg contains an etherial oil that is a recognized poison.

VETCH IS IMPORTANT CROP

Its More General Growth Would Aid Materially in Live Stock Industry—Also Improves Soil.

(By A. SMITH.)

Vetch should occupy an important place in the agriculture of those states where it can be raised with success. In four years' comparisons on over 800 fields, vetch has consistently made heavier growths and greater yields than crimson clover, red clover, or bur clover, although under favorable conditions these have done well.

Vetch is high in protein content, is a good hay, pasture, and soiling crop, and its more general growth would aid in the development of the live stock industry and remove much of the existing necessity for buying hay. Vetch is used as a cover crop to prevent the leaching and washing of soils. Like all legumes, it improves land by adding nitrogen and organic matter to the soils. As it grows through the winter and spring and may be harvested in time to plant corn or cowpeas on the same land, it should be used in building up impoverished soils and in maintaining the productivity of the land. The vetch crop does not require horse or man labor at any time when this is needed for the cowpea crop, except possibly at the harvest time of cowpea hay.

RETURNS FROM WORK HORSES

Many Little Points Are Enumerated That Will Lessen Cost of Animal Labor on the Farm.

(By A. H. BENTON, Assistant Agriculturist, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.)

One of the most frequent sources of loss on the farm is insufficient return from work horses.

Have you satisfied yourself on the following points?

Do your horses earn enough to pay for their feed and care, and enough to meet the interest, depreciation and other expenses, as harness costs and shoeing?

It costs $100 annually to keep the average horse, in Minnesota, but this horse works only a little more than three hours each working day. This makes the horse labor cost approximately ten cents an hour.

Do you handle the horse labor on your farm so that the annual cost of keeping your horse is less than the average, or so that the number of hours worked is greater? Both methods will reduce the cost of the horse labor, but the latter offers by far the greatest opportunity.

Can you revise your cropping system so that fewer work horses will be needed, or so that the work will be more equally distributed and thus make it possible to employ them more hours each year?

Can you raise colts and thus reduce the cost of keeping your horses?

Can you arrange to use your work horses for outside work when not busy on the farm?

Can you reduce the cost of keeping each horse by feeding less feed or cheaper feed and still give a proper ration?

Farm work done with fewer horses means a saving of $100 a year for each horse not needed.

Humus Needed.

The amount of water a soil will hold against gravity depends upon the type of soil. A clay soil composed of fine particles with very small spaces will retain more water than a coarser, sandier soil composed of larger particles and larger spaces. Also, the amount of humus, or decomposed organic matter, in the soil influences the water holding capacity. The more humus in the soil, the more water it will hold, providing the soil particles are of similar size.

Alfalfa Causes Scours.

Alfalfa fed too liberally to very young calves will cause scours. It is very rich feed and the amount given must be limited, especially when the calf is young and before it has a chance to adjust itself to alfalfa hay. In short, whenever there is a change made in the feeding of animals it should be done gradually or there is danger of digestive troubles.

Waste of Food.

Food is wasted when the animal is exposed to excessive cold; when it is deprived of sufficient water; when it is compelled to drink ice cold water; when it is worried, driven about.

Mulch the Celery.

Do not delay applying the manure to the celery. It conserves moisture better than any kind or amount of tillage. Three to four inches of manure.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 58.

Farmer Lad, Boy Grocer, Merchant Prince and Demos-thenes of Belleview.

In that portion of Christian county formerly known as Belleview, not far from the classic stream called the Sinking Fork of Little River, a brown-eyed baby boy opened his eyes upon a strange world on March 12, 1871. He was cute from the start and they called him Claude. At school he led his classes and even at play he was a leader born to command. It wasn't long before Belleview began to be a pent up Utica entirely too small for the permanent scene of his busy activities in the

Along about 1883 he had an opportunity offered to him by a brother-in-law to work in his store on busy days and the work of changing the country boy into a city merchant was begun. When only twelve years of age, he spent one of his vacations in a store located at the town of Montgomery, in Trigg county, and soon became so impatient to become a merchant that it was hard work to keep his footsteps guided into the flowery pathway of knowledge. In other words, the schoolroom had no charm for Claude and he was always glad when school was out. But he learned fast and the time came in 1886 when he thought he was qualified to start into business for himself and he came to Hopkinsville and in connection with F. P. Renshaw started a grocery store, being known as "The Boy Grocer."

He made money and in a little while had saved enough to return to his beloved Belleview and open up a store of his own. More people traded with him than paid for what they got and there came a time when his hard-earned dollars were scattered far and wide over a district extending from Brick Church to Abe's Shop and from Smoot's Bridge to Possum Walk. Disgusted with the credit system, he once more kissed Belleview goodbye and sailed into Hopkinsville, with the legend "Come to Stay" painted on his wheel-house. The firm of C. R. Clark & Co., was formed in 1898, after some up and downs in getting a foot-hold and in 1906 the firm name was incorporated. Mr. Clark has been the "whole thing" in building up his big business in several lines. He was tireless, industrious and enterprising at all times. He did not content himself with old ideas, but reached out into new fields, always a firm believer in printer's ink. He opened the first market-house in the city for green groceries, fish, game, etc. He was the first dealer to handle Reelfoot Lake fish and when they were in season had for sale venison and bear meat and wild fowls. Dressed poultry was one of his regular lines. When the first market garden was started in Hopkinsville he took the entire product.

He was the first dealer to bring to Hopkinsville carload lots of pears and apples, or to buy sugar in carload shipments. Of course his business grew by leaps and bounds and at times he was forced to run two or more stores in different parts of the town. Finally he secured his present big building at 206 South Main street and has continued to grow until it is said he is the largest retail grocer in Western Kentucky. Many side lines have been added, such as cut glass, fresh fruits and school books. A successful career of 28 years has put him in the front rank of Hopkinsville business men.

Not all of his time has been given to the details of business. Before he was a voter he began to take a keen interest in politics and for 25 years has been one of the Republican leaders of the county and at the present time is chairman of the County Committee. In 1903 he was elected Circuit Court Clerk and served for six years and made the county one of the most popular and accommodating officials it ever had.

Mr. Clark shines in many lights, but in none more brilliantly than as an orator. As a campaign orator he is in a class by himself and as an after-dinner speaker he has immortalized himself on many festive occasions.

He belongs to all the lodges and clubs and is renowned both as a hunter and fisherman. Some almost incredible stories have been told by him about his wonderful achievements, especially with hook and line, but most of them have been accepted as facts by his friends.

Taken all in all, he is what you might call an "all round man," good anywhere you put him.

"NO ILLITERACY" SUNDAY

The war is on against illiteracy in Kentucky. The public school teachers and the press are destroying this, the Commonwealth's most vigorous foe. Men and women of other professions are becoming interested and are giving hearty support to the movement.

The Kentucky Illiteracy Commission earnestly requests that all ministers of the gospel in this State will set apart Sunday, October 25th, as a day to preach to the people of their respective congregations on the evils and disadvantages of illiteracy, and to urge each and every one to join in the movement by encouraging the establishment of moonlight schools and by influencing adults, and especially persons, to attend.

Kentucky has 208,084—nearly a quarter of a million persons who cannot read their Bibles. Surely every minister can see in this a serious handicap to religious work in our State. The Bible overflows with texts on the acquirement of knowledge and the necessity of instruction, and a sermon on the importance of stamping out illiteracy would be one of popular interest and would, undoubtedly, be far reaching in its effect.

We appeal to the ministers of Kentucky, one and all, to observe this day with a sermon to enlighten and inspire the people of their congregations to get actively to work to rid their communities of illiteracy, and to make of Kentucky a place where no illiteracy is to be found.

Any minister desiring leaflet of information will please write KENTUCKY ILLITERACY COMMISSION, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, President, Frankfort, Ky.

OFFICER HERE

Looking Up The Record of W. H. Bickers, a Former Shoe Merchant.

J. W. Wheeler, of Texarkana, Texas, was here this week looking up the record of W. H. Bickers, who operated a shoe store here for some months in 1904 and 1905. One night the store in the Phoenix Building, was burned under such suspicious circumstances that Bickers was indicted. Later his father-in-law, B. F. Comer, of Gamaliel, Monroe county, came here and went on his bond and the case was afterwards compromised in some way, or at least was never pushed. Bickers is said to be working some questionable schemes in Southern cities and the authorities are trying to establish his previous bad record.

He had a wife when here, but it is said she is not living with him now. A woman isn't as afraid of a burglar doing her any harm as she is that he will see the regged underwear she leaves hanging on the chairs in her bedroom.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Unmarried Women.

The new York clergyman who asserted that "the unmarried woman is only a half a woman" was short on biography, past and present.

On the honor roll of humanity are the following famous women who never married:

Queen Elizabeth, in whose reign England reached her golden age.

Florence Nightingale, angel of mercy in the Crimean war and establishment of organized nursing in war times. Dorothy Dix, pioneer of reform in prison and reformation methods.

Frances E. Willard, founder of the temperance movement.

Rosa Bonheur, who opened new artistic fields in the representation of animal life.

Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross society and savior of thousands from death and suffering.

Joan of Arc, one of the greatest factors in French history.

Susan B. Anthony, pioneer in efforts to procure more equal rights for women.

Jane Addams, first citizen of Chicago and head of Hull House.

If the New York clergyman will consider this list, he must revise his statement.—Ex.

AMUSEMENTS.

Comical Comedy Chaps.

If there are any more versatile, clever and popular performers among theatrical entertainers than those two comic chaps, Charley Gano and Nicodemus Glynn of Coburn's Greater Minstrels, we do not know them. There are many merry minstrel headliners as individuals equally as entertaining, but not associated together.

in delivering and producing this popular American brand of entertainment. This is a new company is an all new personnel, and bigger, better than ever, new scenery, costumes, and entire performance. Nothing whatever retained or programmed from last seasons show. Gano & Glynn in the latest screaming farce satire "Pacifying Mexicanos" which closes the Ohio with the new show, surpass themselves in fun, foolishness and nonsense. Also in the "Ways of a Wet Town" the First Part Finale (Gano's latest comedy negro skit) the fun and character work, dialogue and situations bring screams of laughter and encouragement to these popular impersonators. With hosts of friends both on and off the stage, these men help to make Coburn's Greater Minstrels the enjoyable, dependable attraction it is known to be every season. Coburn's Minstrels will appear at Holland's Opera House, Friday (tomorrow night) Oct. 16. Seats now on sale at Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

No Dissension.

The State Democratic Press is a unit for the Democratic ticket. There is no sign of dissension anywhere. Their hearty support of the Democratic nominees for the Senate and for Congress is very gratifying to the Democratic Campaign managers. One good newspaper article is equal to the work of a half-dozen spellbinders. The voters of Kentucky are reading and deciding public questions for themselves, and there never was a time when there was such universal knowledge of National policies and the class of men needed to carry them out.

Children's Institutions. There are 1,435 institutions in the United States for the care of children.

BOND ISSUE DEFEATED

When Ordinance Was Put On Its Second Passage Tuesday Night.

THE VOTE STOOD 4 TO 3.

Strong Plea Made For Additional Accommodations For Colored Children.

At an adjourned meeting of the Council held Tuesday night, the ordinance providing for a vote on a bond issue of $100,000, given its first passage last week, was defeated on its second passage by 4 to 3. Councilmen Ducker, Smith and Woolridge voted aye and Councilmen Gee, Southall, Carlross and Russell no.

The ordinance as explained, provided for $65,000 to be used to refund the 1910 and 1912 school bonds, for $15,000 to provide more room for the colored schools and the rest to be used by the white school board, which still owes $12,000 of West Side School notes.

Trustees W. A. Long and T. L. Metcalfe, of the School Board, supported the bond issue and E. W. Glass made a strong plea for the colored people.

Dr. T. W. Blakey opposed the suggestion made that the Clay Street School be set aside for a colored school and assurances were given by a majority of the trustees that this would not be done.

There was not much discussion among the Councilmen themselves and the meeting was not in session long.

Roosevelt's Activity.

President Roosevelt is urging his followers everywhere to stand by the Progressive nominees for Congress and for the Senate. He says no true Progressive will vote for a Republican because that only gives comfort to the enemy. He charges that the Republican party is still in the hands of old corrupt bosses like Barnes in New York and Penrose in Pennsylvania and that no good can come from an alliance with them. President Roosevelt will make a number of speeches in New York, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky; wherever he has appeared he has received a tremendous ovation and his popularity has not in any way diminished.

Had Some Doubt.

"I wonder if you could find out exactly how I stand with your father?" "What difference does it make?" responded the heiress. "I'll marry you whether he likes you or not." "I wasn't thinking of that, my love. He gave me a tip on the stock market just now. Is it safe to play it, or is it not?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.
